

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR DRINKING WATER

Macclenny WTP Bacteriological Monitoring Public Notice

What happened?

Our water system did not meet the requirements of a drinking water rule. Although this is not an emergency, as our customers, you have a right to know what happened, what you should do, and what we are doing to correct this situation.

We are required to monitor your drinking water for specific contaminants on a regular basis. For SYSTEM TYPE water systems, such as ours, monthly monitoring is required for Total Coliform. Results of regular monitoring are an indicator of whether or not your drinking water meets health standards. During the September 2019 compliance period, our system tested positive for Total Coliform bacteria in the distribution system. All repeat samples were satisfactory, however, we did not monitor or test Total Coliform in the ground water and therefore cannot be sure of the quality of your drinking water at that time.

What should I do?

Coliforms are bacteria that are naturally present in the environment and are used as an indicator that other, potentially harmful, bacteria may be present. Microbes can cause short-term effects, such as diarrhea, cramps, nausea, headaches, or other symptoms. They may pose a special health risk for infants, young children, some elderly, and people with severely compromised immune systems.

Any customers who are concerned about their exposure to Coliforms can choose alternative sources of water for ingestion.

What does this mean?

This is not an immediate risk. If it had been, you would have been notified immediately.

What is being done?

This is what we are doing to correct the problem: Repeated samples were collected and all sample results were good.

We anticipate resolving the problem by this date: 11-1-19
